

Prohibition or Licensed Saloons?

It's Up to the Town Board

A special session of the Town Board was held at the Garland Amusement hall Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of considering two petitions presented in respect to the liquor question and allowing the supporters of both petitions an opportunity of thoroughly ventilating the questions involved before final action is taken by the Board.

Petition No. 1 was signed by 77, 26 of whom were residents of Garland. Petition No. 2 was signed by 47, all of whom were residents of Garland.

Mayor J. C. Wheelon was in the chair and all members of the board were present. The Clerk read the petitions, which were duly signed by citizens of Garland and vicinity. Petition No. 1 requested said board that the liquor license be raised to $1,800 per annum and that the hours of opening and closing be fixed from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. Also that the front of saloon buildings be of plain glass with all obstructions removed.

Petition No. 2 requested said board not to interfere with existing conditions—allowing license to remain at $800.00 per annum and the hours of opening and closing from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m.

The meeting was turned over to the supporters of the two petitions for discussion and the following is the synopsis of the arguments pro and con:

W. L. Grover was the first speaker and devoted his remarks to the evils of saloons; stated that he was willing to leave the matter of license to the board, but sincerely hoped that the hours of opening and closing be fixed from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. and gave good reasons in support of his request, advocated plain glass for front of buildings with no obstructions, 1 front door, 1 back door and that all tables, gambling devices, pictures, pool tables, etc., be removed.

D. B. Foulger supported the sentiments of W. L. Grover and favored some move to regulate existing conditions; was opposed to closing of saloons in Garland and leaving them open in Tremont; made statement that a saloon man had boasted of selling liquor on Sunday's and that it was up to the officer to catch him; laws should be enforced.

M. H. Welling, representing the outlying vicinity of Garland, said: We come here to trade, the better your town the more we will trade here; referred to roads, sidewalks, parks, etc., town can't flourish that is rotten inside; above all things for your welfare is higher public morality; did not believe that closing saloons drove trade away; substantiated his arguments by referring to Malad and towns in Utah; people want move to your town if moral conditions are not better than the place they are leaving; advocated higher license, hours from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m., strict regulations; realized that these meant the closing of saloons—that's what I want; Brigham has set the example, Garland and Tremont should follow suit; referred to the treating evil; read the following letter from W. H. Richards, cashier of the First National Bank of Malad City, Idaho:

Malad, Idaho June 7, 1909.
Prest, M. H. Welling,
Fielding, Utah.
Dear Brother:
I herewith enclose a statement signed by some of our business men regarding the closing of the saloons in our town. You know all the names and will know what they say. I will say that I believe that if all of the business men would have signed it, if I had had time to see them. All that I saw signed it, but I have been so busy that I could not see all of them. I am sure that 99 per cent of the people of the town feel satisfied with the closing of the saloons.

Yesterday we had about 300 people at church and I asked if there was any person in the audience that would like to see the saloons open or that thought business would be any better if the saloons were running if so I would like to have them stand up. But none stood up. Then I reversed the question and asked a rising vote of all who were satisfied with the closing of the saloons and every person in the house stood up and seemed glad to have the privilege of standing up to show what they thought of it.

I would be pleased, Prest, Welling if you would come up and spend a few days with us and have a talk with the people on the question, then you could see the difference in our town. I believe we could give you a comfortable night's sleep without being aroused in the early morning hours by racket on the street in front of our place.

I hope your people will be successful in their effort to close the saloons.

Very Respectfully,
W. H. Richards.
Also read the following statement signed by twenty-two business men of Malad City, Idaho:

Malad City, Idaho, June 7, 1909.
M. H. Welling,
Dear Sir:
Inasmuch as some of our neighbors are trying to make it appear that we as business men of Malad City feel that we have made a mistake in closing the saloons in our town and that we are sorry such a move was made, we take this opportunity of correcting all such rumors and say that we do not think any mistake was made. That we think that our town is better morally and every other way and we are in favor of allowing saloons to be reopened. (Signed by 22 business men.)

Mosiah Evans realized the question was a grave one but did not want anyone to think that he was in favor of intemperance; if license is raised to $1,800 it simply means the closing of the saloons; if prohibition prohibited it would be different, but in his experience dry towns were full of blind pigs and blind tigers which were worse than licensed and well regulated saloons; there is a business end of the affair, Garland needs the revenue for improvements; believed if saloons were closed here and left open in Tremont, trade would go to that town; closing of saloons creates more drinking, more drunkenness and cuts out the revenue to pay expenses of maintaining town officers and creates a tax for improvements.

J. W. Lewis related his experience in prohibition districts and preferred licensed saloons to conditions that usually exist where prohibition is instituted; we need the revenue for improvements.

F. D. Welling offered to give his full quota for gravel and for improvements and was willing to be taxed the full extent of the law for improvements provided the saloons were closed.

Bp. A. R. Capener did not want to accept revenue from illegal businesses to build up himself or the town; it is a benefit both financially and morally to abolish saloons; better citizens would come here to live and trade would increase without them.

J. T. Lant believed licensed saloons were preferable to conditions that exist where saloons are closed in one district and left open in another; closing of saloons is bound to injure trade if neighboring towns have open saloons; favored regulations, but was opposed to closing them and depriving the town of the revenue.

Bp. A. R. Capener and M. H. Welling suggested that our saloon men go into some mercantile business instead of saloon-keeping.

Mayor J. C. Wheelon reported a visit of the board with the Town board of Tremont and stated that that body were favorable of some action in the matter, but were waiting to see what Garland would do.

M. H. Welling suggested that the two town boards get together on the proposition.

The proprietors of both saloons were present at the meeting.

The members of the board listened to the arguments from both sides and no action was taken at this session. Next Tuesday night another meeting will be held at the town hall and the matter will be thoroughly considered from all sides of the question.

The Special Election.

As far as Garland is concerned Ogden can build the State capitol. Only 28 votes were cast in this City Tuesday June 8th, 12 of them favoring the tax of 1 mill for 15 years and 16 against the special tax.

The judges of election were Peter Jensen, Ussel Rose and A. R. Capener. The returns were delivered to the County Clerk Wednesday by Ussel Rose, one of the judges of election.

LATER—The unofficial returns show that the people don't think that the Legislature had a right to build the State Capitol before asking them if they could, the vote being about 4,000 against the proposition of a 1 mill tax.

Funeral of Rose Baby.

Last Saturday afternoon funeral services were held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. E. Larsen over the remains of the 3-months old baby of Charlie Rose of Farmington, who died of whooping cough and pneumonia. Mrs. Larsen has had the care of the baby since its mother died about three months ago. The remains were taken to Farmington and entered by the side of its mother. Ussel Rose, L. A. Rose of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. E. Larsen accompanied the remains to Farmington.

Soldiers Defeat Champions.

The Fort Douglas (Soldiers) base ball nine came to town bright and early Monday and spent the forenoon in sight-seeing around town. At 3 p. m. the game between Champions and the Soldiers was pulled off at the City Park. Jensen of Garland and Lowe of Brigham did the tossing act for the Champions. Garland was fine at the bat, but went to pieces in the field work—errors too numerous to mention. The Fort Douglas boys were good batters and excellent fielders and piled up 8 runs to the Champion's 5.

C. J. Campbell umpired the game and W. H. Evans kept track of the "goose eggs" and runs.

Following is the line-up and score by innings:

Black Record of Disease.

Week ending June 6: Forty-four new cases of contagious and infectious disease—15 new cases of smallpox, 15 new cases of scarlet fever, three new cases of diphtheria, six new cases of whooping cough, four cases of chickenpox and one new case of measles.

Twenty-four houses under quarantine for smallpox; 34 houses for scarlet fever, seven houses of diphtheria, 10 cases of smallpox at isolation hospital.

Week ending May 29: Forty-one new cases of contagion.

Week ending May 22: Sixty-four new cases of contagion.

Week ending May 15: Fifty-six new cases.

The above is the black record of dangerous and loathsome diseases to which Salt Lake must confess through the inability of the American party administration board of health to cope with a situation which grows worse instead of better as warmer weather advances.—Int. M. Republican.

Sewer Contract Let.

The Utah-Idaho-Sugar Company has just let a contract to Davis and Heuser of Salt Lake for the construction of a sewer disposal plant to take care of the sewerage from its up town residences.

The Main Sewer will commence at the Railroad borrow pit near the Garland Flour Mill and extend due east along Austin Street to a point immediately north of the Sugar Company's pulp silo. This part of the work will consist of 8-inch sewer pipe with ten man holes and one flush tank for keeping the sewer open and in good working order. On top of this will be laid a 4-inch farm drain tile to take care of the surface water and also assist in flushing the sewer as the water collected by the drain tile will be dropped in to the sewer pipe at intervals of about 400 feet where the man holes are placed. Branch lines will be laid from the Company's houses of 6 and 4 inch sewer and 3 inch drain tile pipes to conduct the sewage and the surface water to the main sewer. Everything is to be done in an up-to-date manner and will be equal to any sewer system of its size in the large cities. The work will commence at once and is to be completed not later than September 1st next, at a cost of $6,500.00. An opportunity will be given to every house holder to avail himself of the benefits of this system by constructing branch lines either to the main sewer or to one of the laterals and by paying the Sugar Company a reasonable amount to help defray the expense of the first cost and the Globe hopes that every one interested will take advantage of this much needed improvement to drain their premises as well as to get rid of the disease breeding refuse that in the past has been dumped out on the ground to rot and infest the community with its death dealing germs. We think a meeting of the citizens should be called at once to go into this matter most thoroughly so that the work may be put under way at the same time that the Sugar Company is doing its work and has the trenches open. No doubt the contractors will be willing to make reasonable prices to property owners to put in their lines while they are contracting the sewer and laterals for the Sugar Company. We hope there will be a concerted movement along this line and thereby greatly aid in the much needed drainage and sanitary conditions for our thriving town.
